DEAD DOG IS THE CURE

It Makes Consumptives Strong and Healthy.

JAMES ALLISON BEING TREATED

His Friends Kill Perfect Canines and Then Render the Lard—Improvement After the First Week—Mrs. Voegtle Had One Foot in the Grave But Now She Weighs 185 Pounds.

The dread destroyer of the Ohio valley, the fast galloping steed upon which the pale rider sweeps down to death the young and promising as well as the old and decrepit, is consumption, and not a month in the year goes by without one or more victims being added to the fast lengthening list, but it seems at last that a cure, repulsive as it may be, has been found.

The lymph of Koch and the thousand one other cures that have been boastingly claimed as the dread enemies of consumption have failed. Year after year the hollow cheeked captives of the awful disease have suffered on, coughing and spitting their lives away, as the patent medicine advertisements have it, without any hope of relief. Hundreds have died here since the town was founded, and physicians have been known to advise their patients to cease buying medicine, as it was only a waste of money for they would certainly die, and no power on earth could prevent them crossing the dark river at no distant date. Whole families have passed away, and children born of consumptive parents have lived a brief existence of suffering and then ended their sad lives in the slow, wasting process of the dread malady. Consumption has been a curse, and to many is still a nightmare, for death hangs over them as sure as the sword hung over Damocles. But now they say a cure has been found, a simple remedy within the reach of all, and it is claimed that it has not only done wonders, but is lifting one man from the grave, giving him renewed strength and hope of longer earthly life.

The man in question is James Allison, a son of William Allison of Second street. He has been employed in the potteries for years as a dipper, the last place being at the East Liverpool Pottery company. Although but 35 years of age he looks like a man of 60, having been attacked by consumption a year ago. Being a poor man and not endowed with millions he was compelled to work, and work he did until it was impossible for him to stand over the tub. His once rugged frame began to waste away, and he soon became a walking skeleton, the skin tightly drawn over his bones and his face wearing that awful expression of hopelessness and despair always found in the consumptive. He was doomed, and he knew it. To him life was only a brief space, and the short path he trod was a way of suffering, while the grave yawned at the other end ready to receive his emaciated frame. His friends knew he was going to die, and made what they imagined were his last weeks on earth as pleasant as possible, until some one reminded him that they had heard the only cure for consumption was dog. He laughed at the suggestion at first, but at length decided to try the remedy. A healthy dog was found and butchered after the most approved plan. The meat looked as nice as any lamb ever killed, and Allison would not have known, had they kept it from him, that a plump canine was the dish. But it was not the plan to have him eat the dog and the fat was rendered into lard. Of this he took a table spoonful three times a day, and for the first few days there was no change. Then Allison began to feel the blood bounding through his veins with greater vigor. His strength began to return, and where it was impossible for him to walk across the little grass plot in front of his home only with great effort, he soon discovered was no task at all. His coughs, that awful agony that every consumptive knows so well, soon began to be less suffering and he felt, as he expressed it to a reporter, that it was loosening. Although he has been under treatment only a week, he feels that he is improving and hopes the remedy will effect a complete cure. His three faithful friends, Cline Calhoun, Oscar Bowles and George Allison, have promised to keep him in the remedy until he is restored to health and are even now looking for a plump, healthy dog, to provide the next lar of lard.

The other case is that of Mrs. Voegtle, who keeps a restaurant on Walnut street near Turner hall, and is well known to hundreds of people in that part of the city. Only five years ago the woman was a consumptive. The disease took strong hold of her, and the wasting process was continued with such effect that she soon dwindled down to a weight of 90 pounds. Death stared her every day in the face, and she fully expected to furnish the central figure at a funeral, when some one prescribed dog. Grasping the suggestion as a drowning being clutches a straw, her friends lost no time in killing a fat dog. Soup was made from the meat and the fat was transformed into lard. She was faithful in taking the remedy, and in a few weeks the change was marvelous. For six months the treatment was continued, and at the end of that time Mrs. Voegtle had completly recovered, and to this day is a strong, robust, healthy woman, the picture of health and strength. She modestly told the reporter that she weighed at present 185 pounds, and her husband, who has been dead for several years, would not know her if he came back to life. She expected to die of consumption, and was too weak to stand. The best medical aid could do her no good, yet she was completely cured by the diet of dog. She says it was not as unpleasant as might be imagined, but she has no desire to repeat the experience.

ANOTHER BRADSHAW SUIT.

B. C. Simms Seeks to Collect the Amount of a Note.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Oct. 8.—B. C. Simms today sued Ambrose C. and Grace Bradshaw to recover $1,200 on a note given in April, 1892. He holds a mortgage on lots 3,211, 3,212, 3,213, 3,214 and 3,215, which he wants foreclosed.

An action to set aside the will of the late Susan Crawford, of this place, was filed vesterday by her daughter, Anna S. Arter, who claims that the will bequeathing the bulk of the estate to her brother, Homer Crawford, was made when her mother was mentally incapacitated, and that she had been influenced by the brother, who kept Mrs. Arter from her, and at one time forcibly ejected her from the house. The property is valuable.

In common pleas a number of minor cases that have been on the docket for some time were disposed of, many being dismissed. An appraisement was ordered in the case of the Potters' Building and Loan against Lillie Arbuckle, and Monroe Patterson, J. G. Lee and W. H. Vodrey were made appraisers.

The second assignment was made as follows: Oct. 14.—Adam Hum versus Pennsylvania company. Tuesday—James Sharp versus J. D. Russell; same versus W. B. Chamberlain; James Krider versus J. B. Bartlett. Wednesday—Gust Velle versus Martha Cowan; Mary Hoover versus M. C. Wallace; R. J. Rhodes versus John McBurney. Thursday—J. Myers versus D. Morgan; H. H. Anderson versus trustees of Yellow Creek township; Schilling & Co., versus W Y. Spricker. Friday—Samuel Green versus George Gane; Belle Mitchell versus Owen Smith; Maggie Sullivan versus D. Gallagher.

The Fastbinder case is before the grand jury today, and many Liverpool people are here. Tomorrow the case of Mrs. Barcus will be heard, and Liverpool will again be present. A number of marriage licenses were issued today.

SOMETHING DIDN'T WORK.

Therefore the Street Cars Collided on Smoky.

When Motorman Martin left the Second street switch last night he saw a car commanded by Motorman McKinnon hastening from the Washington street curve, and he lost no time in reversing the current and speeding back to the double track, but he did not make it. Something would not work on McKinnon's car, and there was a collision, in which the car of Martin was badly shaken up. It was pushed off the track, and sent with great force against the curbstone, but fortunately, no one was hurt. The car was damaged somewhat, an awning was more or less injured, and the few passengers were given a thorough shaking up. Traffic was delayed for a time, six cars being bunched at the switch.

A BIG BATCH.

Grand Jury Will Go After the Saloonists.

Deputy Moffatt was in town today on business and in his pocket he carried a big bundle of subpœnas. The general impression was abroad that the greater number of these were for saloon cases, and before the week was over many witnesses would have to tell where they got liquor when it was against the law. It is understood that these cases have been expected for some time, but it was not thought that there would be an avalanche when it did come. It is said that many of the subpœnaed are minors.

YEE TIE'S AWFUL YELL

It Aroused Smoky and Caused Excitement.

SOME ONE ASSAULTED HIM

The Bully Escaped in the Darkness, But the Chinee Called For the Police—Arrested On an Old Charge—A Little Boom in Police Court.

Yee Tie is a Chinaman who carries on a laundry on Second street and leads a peaceful life as long as the boys let him alone. But at times his existence is stormy, and last night was one of these occasions.

A man came into his place last night and made life so miserable that the Celestial ordered him out, and he refused to go. At length Yee got assistance and the fellow was pushed through the door. For a few minutes there was a brief struggle, the man having placed his foot in the doorway, but at length he gave up the battle and left. In a few minutes Yee went along the street toward city hall in order to lay in a complaint, when he was assaulted and brutally beaten. Wrenching himself free of the assailant's grasp, Yee ran into the blacksmith shop at Broska's and attempted to pick up a sledge, with which to defend himself; but the thing was too heavy, and he had just caught up a piece of wire when the crowd gathered, and the assailant who had been in hot pursuit escaped. Officer Earl arrived in a few minutes and arrested Charles Jones, who was in a restaurant nearby. He was locked up for the night, but this morning disclaimed any knowledge of the affair, saying that he had not seen the Chinaman, and was only on Second street because a relative was drunk and he was taking care of him. Jones was returned to his cell until Officer Earl came in to explain Jones had been quarreling with the restaurant man and that is why he was arrested.

John Hadgett and Jack Hanson became involved in a row on West Market street last night, and Patrolman Randolph gave them a ride which cost each one $7.60.

Anthony Smith was charged on April 13 with assaulting Cooney Single, and thinking that he could get along in some other clime just as well, left for parts unknown. Last week he returned, and today was tried on the old charge. Being found guilty, the mayor fined him $5 and the costs, amounting to $18.45. Being without funds, he was locked up.

When Patrolman McMillen and Randolph were at the fire station last night, Mrs. Jennie Townsend and her daughter appeared and claimed protection. They feared they were about to be killed by Charles Owens and they hastened for aid. The officers accompanied them to Broadway and Third, but Owens had fled to a shanty boat. They pursued and captured the man locking him up for the night upon the representation of the women that a charge would be entered this morning. When they appeared they refused to prosecute, and Owen was released.

The crowd who were captured by the police in West End on Saturday night did not call on Mayor Gilbert at the appointed hour last evening, and it is not at all probable that they will appear. They gave their names as Will Saunders, Rob Roeber, Minnie Selbick and May Copeland. They all gave security for their appearance.

DIED AT COLUMBUS.

But Mrs. Burton Was at One Time Well Known Here.

Mrs. Mary A. Burton, widow of the late William Burton, Sr., died in Columbus Sept. 28, at the residence of her son, Thomas Marshall, aged 75 years, and the funeral took place in Columbus Sept. 30. Deceased resided in this city for a number of years where she was very well known. Her husband had a wide circle of friends before his death in 1890, being a member of McNicol, Burton & Co., and being one of the best known potters in the city. Mrs. Burton was a consistent Christian, having for many years been a member of the Methodist Protestant church. She leaves three sons, J. W. Young, Elizabeth, N. J.; and William and Thomas Marshall, of Columbus. Mr. Young, who travels for the John Moses company of Trenton, was in the city. He too, is well known here, and the announcement that he made of his mother's death was a surprise to a great number of people in the city.

A LITTLE EARLY.

That Damage Suit Against the Electric Line Not Filed.

A local paper, consumed with a burning desire to catch a scoop, fell into a grievous error again last night when it stated that a suit for $25,000 had been filed on behalf of Frank Green against the street railway company because he was injured in the accident last June. A special to the NEWS REVIEW from Lisbon at noon today stated that the suit had not yet been filed, but would likely be placed on the docket before night. The sheet in question also erred in making a distinguished lady arrive in the city when unfortunately for its plans and untimely items she did not arrive at all.

DISAPPOINTED.

The Friends of Miss Nancy McIntosh Did Not See Her.

Great was the disappointment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Laughlin late yesterday afternoon when they learned by telephone that their niece, the accomplished Miss Nancy McIntosh, could not be their guest. The young lady explained that she was very tired after her journey, and there was a rehearsal in the way. Since she leaves tonight after the concert in Pittsburg for New York, her friends did not press their invitation, well knowing of the trying time through which the young lady was compelled to pass. There is a strong bond of affection between Mrs. Laughlin and Miss McIntosh, and the former lady is longing to see her niece this evening. A number of Liverpool people will attend the concert. Mr. William A. McIntosh, the father of Miss McIntosh, spent last evening at the residence of Mr. Laughlin.

BLAMES THE DOCTORS.

John Rinehart Thinks They Are to Blame.

Undertaker John Rinehart, who is accused by the board of health of neglecting to take out burial permits, feels hurt, and blames the whole matter on the doctors. To a reporter of the NEWS REVIEW he stated that the board could sue if it so desired, but he was not guilty. Repeatedly he had filled out the required blanks, and often the doctors had neglected to sign them. His part, he thinks, of the law was carried out without trouble, but it was the doctors who were in error. Mr. Rinehart will likely fight the case to a finish, as it is understood that he is anxious for a vindication.

STRIKE AT TIFFIN.

The Potters There are Out in Force and Have a Grievance.

A special from Tiffin contains this information:

"The Brewer Pottery is closed, the potters having gone on a strike in pursuance to orders issued from the National Brotherhood of Operative potters. The difficulty resulted from the manufacturers having failed to accept the brotherhood orders that they should not employ apprentices and make the employes stand the loss for defective work. The strike, it is thought, will be a long one, as the potters and manufacturers are determined not to yield."

DEFERRED THE CHANGE.

School Board Will Not Order New Text Books.

The only important action taken at the meeting of school boaad last evening was the determination to defer any changes that might be made in text books until the beginning of another term. The board did not deem it advisable to make the change when students were already well started in their work. A number of bills were ordered paid, and Secretary Nellis will be at Central building between 7 and 8 o'clock this evening to satisfy claims.

MAHONE IS DEAD.

The General Passed Away This Afternoon.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—General Mahone, who was cut down by a stroke of paralysis a few days ago, died this afternoon at 1 o'clock. He never rallied after the first attack, and his death has been expected for several days. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

HOME FROM ENGLAND.

A Rousing Reception Given a Traveler Last Night.

Mrs. Herbert Horasa, wife of the popular fireman of the decorating kilns at Sebring's, arrived home from England yesterday, and was last night given a serenade by her friends. A great many of them were present, and a band and an orchestra provided abundant music for the occasion. Mrs. Horasa was in England three months, and had an enjoyable visit, her return journey being especially pleasant.

AVONDALE NOT A UNIT

People Who Will Not Sign the Paper.

THEY HAVE THEIR CLAIMS

Some Will Sue For Damages If the Street Is Improved, and Others Have a Proviso Before They Sign—Strong Efforts to Push It Through.

The agreement by which property owners of Avondale avenue waive all rights to damages and throw aside any claim they may have because of the insufficient value of property, provided the street is paved, is being liberally signed, but some things enter into the matter that were not on the document, so important to those who want the street paved and preserved to posterity.

The chief of objectors are Williard Morris and Doctor Burkett, who own lots on Minerva street from the point where it joins Avondale to quite a distance up the hill, and their kick is more because of that street than the one to be paved. When Avondale was graded a big fill was made where Minerva, really nothing more than the bed of a stream, joins. The water once had a free outlet to Tanyard run, but the fill blocked its course, and something happened. For months in the year the run is dry, but when the rains descend the water rolls off the clay hillsides as it is supposed to roll off the back of a duck. One time that water came tearing down the hill, and entering the house of Henry Bevington, played havoc, and cost the city a pretty penny for damages. Now it is claimed by those interested in Minerva street that some day the water will soak through the fill, and cause the whole thoroughfare to slip into the China works. They have no desire to see that calamity happen, and as they want Minerva street attended to, they think a little improvement there will not only help Avondale after it is paved, but will make Minerva a much better place to live. They do not want the city to pay for the work just now, but they are willing to do it themselves, only asking that they be given credit for the improvement on the minutes of council, so that when the street is filled up it will show that a portion of their work has been done. Already they have spent $500 on the street, and have no credit of any kind. The land has a front of 67 feet on Avondale, and they assert that they will not waive their rights unless council agrees to their plan. They claim this system was used on Cadmus street, and cite instances where improvements made before the city ordered were credited on the assessment of the property owner. They think it discriminating against them not to grant their request.

And right here it is not out of the way to say that the making of streets out of all the waste ground in a plan of lots should be ever at an end. The city has rights which the individuals are bound to respect, and the laying out and acceptance of streets that will cost thousands to make passable is an evil the effect of which Liverpool has long since learned.

Another part of the hitch, if hitch it can be called, is the report that three property owners of the avenue will demand damages if the improvement is made. They are Mrs. L. Collins, J. A. Telfer and Harvey Allison, the combined claim amounting to $2,900. Meantime the other residents are pushing their cause along, and hoping council will order the street paved.

A BIG TRANSFER.

A Deed For Property Valued at $100,000 Recorded.

Three years ago William Brunt and wife transferred to the William Brunt Pottery company all the property of the concern, but the deed was never recorded until today. It became an official record this afternoon, the amount involved being $100,000, and including seven lots, on which the pottery is located.

D. F. Nellis has sold to Frank H. Croxall lot 356 in this city for $1,400, and S. R. Dixon and wife have sold to Maggie White lot 1469 for $2,000.

Reilly Won the Fight.

Peter Murray, the pugilist, arrived home from Elwood City this afternoon, and not in the best of humor. A big crowd saw the fight, which was awarded Reilly at the end of the sixth round. Murray claims he did not receive a fair show. Potts came home with him.

Made an Officer.

Mrs. Harper, of this city, was yesterday made an officer of the missionary society in session in Steubenville.

Jones was returned to his cell until Officer Earl came in to explain Jones had been quarreling with the restaurant man and that is why he was arrested.

John Hadgett and Jack Hanson became involved in a row on West Market street last night, and Patrolman Randolph gave them a ride which cost each one $7.60.

Anthony Smith was charged on April 13 with assaulting Cooney Single, and thinking that he could get along in some other clime just as well, left for parts unknown. Last week he returned, and today was tried on the old charge. Being found guilty, the mayor fined him $5 and the costs, amounting to $18.45. Being without funds, he was locked up.

When Patrolman McMillen and Randolph were at the fire station last night, Mrs. Jennie Townsend and her daughter appeared and claimed protection. They feared they were about to be killed by Charles Owens and they hastened for aid. The officers accompanied them to Broadway and Third, but Owens had fled to a shanty boat. They pursued and captured the man locking him up for the night upon the representation of the women that a charge would be entered this morning. When they appeared they refused to prosecute, and Owen was released.

The crowd who were captured by the police in West End on Saturday night did not call on Mayor Gilbert at the appointed hour last evening, and it is not at all probable that they will appear. They gave their names as Will Saunders, Rob Roeber, Minnie Selbick and May Copeland. They all gave security for their appearance.

DIED AT COLUMBUS.

But Mrs. Burton Was at One Time Well Known Here.

Mrs. Mary A. Burton, widow of the late William Burton, Sr., died in Columbus Sept. 28, at the residence of her son, Thomas Marshall, aged 75 years, and the funeral took place in Columbus Sept. 30. Deceased resided in this city for a number of years where she was very well known. Her husband had a wide circle of friends before his death in 1890, being a member of McNicol, Burton & Co., and being one of the best known potters in the city. Mrs. Burton was a consistent Christian, having for many years been a member of the Methodist Protestant church. She leaves three sons, J. W. Young, Elizabeth, N. J.; and William and Thomas Marshall, of Columbus. Mr. Young, who travels for the John Moses company of Trenton, was in the city. He too, is well known here, and the announcement that he made of his mother's death was a surprise to a great number of people in the city.

A LITTLE EARLY.

That Damage Suit Against the Electric Line Not Filed.

A local paper, consumed with a burning desire to catch a scoop, fell into a grievous error again last night when it stated that a suit for $25,000 had been filed on behalf of Frank Green against the street railway company because he was injured in the accident last June. A special to the NEWS REVIEW from Lisbon at noon today stated that the suit had not yet been filed, but would likely be placed on the docket before night. The sheet in question also erred in making a distinguished lady arrive in the city when unfortunately for its plans and untimely items she did not arrive at all.

DISAPPOINTED.

Great was the disappointment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Laughlin late yesterday afternoon when they learned by telephone that their niece, the accomplished Miss Nancy McIntosh, could not be their guest. The young lady explained that she was very tired after her journey, and there was a rehearsal in the way. Since she leaves tonight after the concert in Pittsburg for New York, her friends did not press their invitation, well knowing of the trying time through which the young lady was compelled to pass. There is a strong bond of affection between Mrs. Laughlin and Miss McIntosh, and the former lady is longing to see her niece this evening. A number of Liverpool people will attend the concert. Mr. William A. McIntosh, the father of Miss McIntosh, spent last evening at the residence of Mr. Laughlin.

BLAMES THE DOCTORS.

John Rinehart Thinks They Are to Blame.

Undertaker John Rinehart, who is accused by the board of health of neglecting to take out burial permits, feels hurt, and blames the whole matter on the doctors. To a reporter of the NEWS REVIEW he stated that the board could sue if it so desired, but he was not guilty. Repeatedly he had filled out the required blanks, and often the doctors had neglected to sign them. His part, he thinks, of the law was carried out without trouble, but it was the doctors who were in error. Mr. Rinehart will likely fight the case to a finish, as it is understood that he is anxious for a vindication.

STRIKE AT TIFFIN.

The Potters There are Out in Force and Have a Grievance.

A special from Tiffin contains this information:

"The Brewer Pottery is closed, the potters having gone on a strike in pursuance to orders issued from the National Brotherhood of Operative potters. The difficulty resulted from the manufacturers having failed to accept the brotherhood orders that they should not employ apprentices and make the employes stand the loss for defective work. The strike, it is thought, will be a long one, as the potters and manufacturers are determined not to yield."

DEFERRED THE CHANGE.

School Board Will Not Order New Text Books.

The only important action taken at the meeting of school boaad last evening was the determination to defer any changes that might be made in text books until the beginning of another term. The board did not deem it advisable to make the change when students were already well started in their work. A number of bills were ordered paid, and Secretary Nellis will be at Central building between 7 and 8 o'clock this evening to satisfy claims.

MAHONE IS DEAD.

The General Passed Away This Afternoon.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—General Mahone, who was cut down by a stroke of paralysis a few days ago, died this afternoon at 1 o'clock. He never rallied after the first attack, and his death has been expected for several days. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

HOME FROM ENGLAND.

A Rousing Reception Given a Traveler Last Night.

Mrs. Herbert Horasa, wife of the popular fireman of the decorating kilns at Sebring's, arrived home from England yesterday, and was last night given a serenade by her friends. A great many of them were present, and a band and an orchestra provided abundant music for the occasion. Mrs. Horasa was in England three months, and had an enjoyable visit, her return journey being especially pleasant.

AVONDALE NOT A UNIT

People Who Will Not Sign the Paper.

THEY HAVE THEIR CLAIMS

Some Will Sue For Damages If the Street Is Improved, and Others Have a Proviso Before They Sign—Strong Efforts to Push It Through.

The agreement by which property owners of Avondale avenue waive all rights to damages and throw aside any claim they may have because of the insufficient value of property, provided the street is paved, is being liberally signed, but some things enter into the matter that were not on the document, so important to those who want the street paved and preserved to posterity.

The chief of objectors are Williard Morris and Doctor Burkett, who own lots on Minerva street from the point where it joins Avondale to quite a distance up the hill, and their kick is more because of that street than the one to be paved. When Avondale was graded a big fill was made where Minerva, really nothing more than the bed of a stream, joins. The water once had a free outlet to Tanyard run, but the fill blocked its course, and something happened. For months in the year the run is dry, but when the rains descend the water rolls off the clay hillsides as it is supposed to roll off the back of a duck. One time that water came tearing down the hill, and entering the house of Henry Bevington, played havoc, and cost the city a pretty penny for damages. Now it is claimed by those interested in Minerva street that some day the water will soak through the fill, and cause the whole thoroughfare to slip into the China works. They have no desire to see that calamity happen, and as they want Minerva street attended to, they think a little improvement there will not only help Avondale after it is paved, but will make Minerva a much better place to live. They do not want the city to pay for the work just now, but they are willing to do it themselves, only asking that they be given credit for the improvement on the minutes of council, so that when the street is filled up it will show that a portion of their work has been done. Already they have spent $500 on the street, and have no credit of any kind. The land has a front of 67 feet on Avondale, and they assert that they will not waive their rights unless council agrees to their plan. They claim this system was used on Cadmus street, and cite instances where improvements made before the city ordered were credited on the assessment of the property owner. They think it discriminating against them not to grant their request.

And right here it is not out of the way to say that the making of streets out of all the waste ground in a plan of lots should be ever at an end. The city has rights which the individuals are bound to respect, and the laying out and acceptance of streets that will cost thousands to make passable is an evil the effect of which Liverpool has long since learned.

Another part of the hitch, if hitch it can be called, is the report that three property owners of the avenue will demand damages if the improvement is made. They are Mrs. L. Collins, J. A. Telfer and Harvey Allison, the combined claim amounting to $2,900. Meantime the other residents are pushing their cause along, and hoping council will order the street paved.

A BIG TRANSFER.

A Deed For Property Valued at $100,000 Recorded.

Three years ago William Brunt and wife transferred to the William Brunt Pottery company all the property of the concern, but the deed was never recorded until today. It became an official record this afternoon, the amount involved being $100,000, and including seven lots, on which the pottery is located.

D. F. Nellis has sold to Frank H. Croxall lot 356 in this city for $1,400, and S. R. Dixon and wife have sold to Maggie White lot 1469 for $2,000.

Reilly Won the Fight.

Peter Murray, the pugilist, arrived home from Elwood City this afternoon, and not in the best of humor. A big crowd saw the fight, which was awarded Reilly at the end of the sixth round. Murray claims he did not receive a fair show. Potts came home with him.

Made an Officer.

Mrs. Harper, of this city, was yesterday made an officer of the missionary society in session in Steubenville.

THIS thing of Brice colonizing railroad men preparatory to election should be stamped out at once. It is a shame and a disgrace that such things are allowed in Ohio.

YES, the Campbells are coming, but they are being pushed to their highest speed by a task master who knows no such expression as neglect of duty. The initials of his first name are Hon. Calvin S Brice, resident of New York, and United States senator from Ohio.

AN INCIDENT.

While the hand shakes at Chicamauga and the good fellowship of Louisville are still warm in the hearts of the blue and the gray the following dispatch from Petersburg, Va., tells its own sad story.

"An incident which occurred here this morning at the reception given to the liberty bell is the talk of the town tonight. A member of the escort committee leaned from the car in which the bell was rigged, and lifting a small negro baby from the arms of its mother, wrapped it in the American flag and seated it upon the beam from which the bell was hung. The incident sent a chill through the residents, and although there was no hisses or other demonstrations of disapproval, many of them turned on their heels and walked away."

Who says the Mason and Dixon line is obliterated and the people of the south willing and anxious to accept the new order?

THE BIG FROG.

This pretense of Campbell being the big frog in the Democratic puddle is all nonsense. Brice is the leader, the man who craves position and honor. He it is who burns with a desire to again represent in congress the state he has deserted, and he it is who is employing the best Democratic talent on the market to help him win out against the people. If Brice had not run over from New York with his bag of gold and ready check book the campaign in Ohio would this year be flatter than the proverbial pancake, and the Campbell they talk so much about would be hustling around attempting to retrieve his shattered fortunes by the exercise of his ability in the legitimate walks of life instead of following the delusive phantom held out by Mr. Brice. The senator is making the fight of his life, urging on his servants and applying all sorts of promises to make them work the harder. That is why the New Yorker is such a dangerous enemy, and it is why the Republican committee are working with a will to get out the vote. If the Republicans go to the polls, not a vestige of Brice and his golden bound gang can be found after election day.

SLOW RESCUE WORK.

EIGHT DEAD FROM EXPLODING GAS

Five Men Badly Burned Rescued—One Was Slowly Roasting to Death When Aid Came—Companion Lay Near Helpless With Broken Arms.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 8.—The rescuers have made very little headway in their efforts to reach the victims of the gas explosion in the Dorrance mine. Firedamp has made its appearance and it has been necessary to do considerable brattice work, which proceeds very slowly. There is a strong suspicion also that the explosion caused a heavy fall in the old workings, and that this will further retard the work of the rescuers. It is now admitted by the mine officials that there is no hope of finding the engineer corps alive. They all perished in the explosion, and if they were not killed outright they were suffocated by the firedamp. The superintendent is of the opinion that they were killed by the force of the explosion and their bodies probably burned to a crisp. All but eight miners and laborers have now been accounted for. Superintendent Chase thinks, however, that the list of dead will not number more than seven or eight. They may be put down as follows:

William L. Jones, mining engineer, aged 21, of Wilkesbarre; William Cahill, mining engineer, aged 20, Wilkesbarre; Llewellyn Owens, mining engineer, aged 24, Pittston; Daniel Davis, fire boss, aged 38; three unknown men, probably Hungarian laborers.

Five men, all badly burned, have been brought to the surface. They are Robert Blanchard, aged 19; William Miller, aged 21; Michael Moss, George Lafly and Joseph Murphy.

The first two are members of the engineer corps. Moss and Lafly are laborers and Murphy is a driver. Miller and Blanchard are so badly burned that they cannot live.

Miller and Blanchard are resting easily, but little hope is entertained for their recovery.

Blanchard gave his version of the explosion to a reporter as he lay on a cot in the hospital. He said that the engineer corps decided to make a survey of the old abandoned workings, known as the Baltimore section. The party, which was in charge of Fireboss Daniel Reese, who is an expert on mine gases, consisted of William Jones, William Cahill and Llewellyn Owens. Blanchard and Miller were left behind to finish some work that had been started. About 12 minutes after the party had left Miller and Blanchard the explosion occurred. Both Miller and Blanchard were knocked down by its force. Fiying timbers also struck Miller, breaking both his arms.

After being knocked down Miller and Blanchard remembered nothing until they were revived at the hospital. Blanchard thinks some of the engineers or probably the fireboss set fire to a body of gas in the old workings, and that all of the party must have been instantly killed. When Blanchard was found he was being slowly roasted to death.

Not a Case of Abduction.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Lloyd Mifflin Scott has appeared in the supreme court on the arm of her husband to answer to the writ of habeas corpus secured by George A. Smythe, a Boston lawyer, who charged that Scott and his father, John C. Scott, a wealthy Philadelphia coal dealer, had abducted her in Boston and were depriving her of her liberty. It was proved that it was a case of reconciliation.

Ancient Church Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The Abington Presbyterian church, the home of the oldest Presbyterian congregation in Montgomery county and for more than a century a land mark on the old York road in Abington village, a mile and a half above Jenkintown has been destroyed by fire with its contents. TEMPLE CUP SERIES.

The Baltimores Shut Out the Clevelands in the Fourth Game.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8.—The champions have tasted the sweetness of revenge by shutting the Spiders out without a run in the fourth game of the Temple cup series.

The playing seems to indicate that the home team will make it three straight here. More than 10,000 people saw the battle and the enthusiasm was unbounded, so much so in fact that some of the rougher element forgot themselves and offered some indignities to the visitors.

It was purely a pitchers' contest, in which Esper had the better of it. Cuppy, though a bit wild, held the victors down to nine hits. These, however, came at opportune times, while the five made by the visitors were scattered and non-productive of runs. The fielding on both sides was almost perfect, not a chance being refused. Aside from the work of the batteries, the only notable features were brilliant catches of long flies by Kelley, Brodie, McGarr and Blake, and the splendid work of Jennings at short. Score:

PROSECUTION TO HIS AID.

New York District Attorney Declares That Murderer Hanaigan Is Insane.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A remarkable condition of affairs developed when the case of David F. Hannigan, charged with killing Solomon H. Mann, the betrayer of his sister, was called before Justice Ingraham in oyer and terminer. Assistant District Attorney John F. McIntyre rose and asserted that Hannigan is mentally unsound now and not in condition to be tried for life.

Dr. W. J. O'Sullivan replied hotly that Hannigan was all right mentally at the present time, but that the defense claimed that he was insane at the time of the shooting in front of the Bristol hotel, Forty-second street and Fifth avenue, on May 23 last. He demanded that the trial proceed, while the district attorney asked to have another case called. As a compromise, Justice Ingraham put the Hannigan case down for trial tomorrow, to which time the court adjourned.

Three Men Ambushed.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Oct. 8.—Information has been received here from Morgantown that a man named Burns and his son have waylaid three men near London, in Butler county. THE BIG FIGHT'S FATE

Sporting Representatives Deciding It at Dallas Today.

HOT SPRINGS WANTS THE MILL.

Arkansas Can Do Nothing More Than Fine the Fighters—Commissioner Browning Forbids the Fight In the Indian Territory—Wisconsin Sports Want It.

DALLAS, Oct. 8.—Martin Julian, representing Robert Fitzsimmons, and William A. Brady for James J. Corbett, are in the city. Only Joe Vendig is lacking to make up a quorum to settle the selection of the battle-ground. He will be in from New York this afternoon. It is possible all the preliminaries will be arranged tonight, but more than likely they will not be until tomorrow. Bets have been freely accepted at odds of 4 to 15 that the fight would come off on October 31. Maher is now putting in ten hours a day at Oak Cliff punching the bag, sparring with his trainer, running five miles and repeating, plunging in the lake and doing other developing acts.

The city has already received 100 or so sporting men, who are here looking over the ground. W. Waters and W. Martin of Hot Springs, Ark., a committee representing that city, are here arranging for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons mill to come off there, and will remain here until details are settled upon. They quote the law of their state as applying to principals and participants in the ring, making prize fighting a misdemeanor, with a fine of $1,000 to $1,500 as a penalty. They say the contest will be pulled off there without question.

A Milwaukee special says: Sports in this state are planning to have the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight pulled off on an Indian reservation in the northern part of the state.

A Washington special says: Commissioner Browning of the Indian office has taken prompt and decisive steps to prevent the Corbett-Fittzsimmons prize fight taking place in the Indian Territory. He has sent a letter of instructions to Agent Wisdom at Muscogee, I. T., directing him to see that the laws are enforced and to eject forcibly any intruders who may enter the Indian country for the purpose of creating a disturbance or engaging in anything that may be detrimental to the Indians. The commissioner says that the statutes of the United States are ample to cover the situation and to prevent the fight. The agent will have at his back not only the Indian police, but all the United States troops necessary to eject the fighters. The statutes give the United States authority to keep out of the Indian Territory all persons whose presence would be detrimental to the peace and prosperity of the Indians.

The committee says there is no doubt that the presence of the prizefighters and the gang that would follow them into the Indian country would be very detrimental to the Indians, and therefore it is the duty of the Indians to keep them out. He says that the agent at Muscogee has not got as much authority as the agents on reservations, but nevertheless has enough to prevent the fight taking place in the territory of the five civilized tribes. The commissioner intends also to notify all the governors and head men of the five civilized tribes that they must not allow the fight to take place and must assist the United States authorities in preventing it. Commissioner Browning was asked if the admission of Corbett, Fitzsimmons and others connected with the fight to citizenship in one of the tribes would make any difference in the authority of the government and he said that it would not change the conditions in the least. The government has the power to expel a full blood Indian from the territory if the peace and good order of the Indians required it.

MUST INAUGURATE REFORM.

Great Britain Says Riots In Constantinople Don't Change the Situation.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—It is officially stated that the recent disturbances at Constantinople will not stop the negotiations which Great Britain and the powers are carrying on with the Turkish government looking to reform in the administration of Armenia.

A Vienna special says: The Politische Correspondenz publishes the note which the representatives of the powers at Constantinople have addressed to the porte drawing attention to the state of affairs and advising the porte to adopt measures for the restoration of order. The note says that the subscribers have their information partly from eye witnesses, and that it shows that private persons who were arrested were beaten and were even killed, without the police attempting to prevent it; that orderly persons were attacked and that those who were wounded were taken to the courts, to the police stations and to the prisons and were killed in cold blood.

A Constantinople special says: There is one feature of the police work which is attracting considerable attention. It is frequently recalled that the gendarmes while making arrests repeatedly told the persons taken into custody to "Call upon England to deliver you."

Those who know the way of Turkish officials say that this shows that the police were instructed to impress upon the minds of the Armenians that Great Britain was unable or unwilling to assist them in this emergency.

Fatal Row Among Boatmen.

TONAWANDA, N. Y., Oct. 8.—One man was killed and another fatally wounded here in a riot among boatmen over the question of loading a boat at Scribner's dock. About 150 men were involved in the riot, and several pistol shots were fired. Captain Phillips, owner of the boats John Graft and May, was shot in the head as he stood upon his boat, and he died soon afterward. Phillips' son was struck on the head with a club and knocked insensible. It is believed his skull is fractured and his death is feared.

ROW AMONG GLASS MEN.

Manufacturers Trying to Keep the Jobbers From Organizing.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—The glass manufacturers of the country are in secret session here at the Hollendon and a meeting of the glass jobbers is also being held. It is understood that the object of the meeting on the part of the manufacturers is to seek to prevent the jobbers from organizing.

Recently the glass manufacturers organized a series of so-called trusts. They were then in a position to dictate the amount of commission to be paid the jobber. It is claimed the terms the manufacturers laid down were so severe that the jobbers decided to protest and accordingly called the conference which commenced today. The manufacturers heard of the conference and decided to meet at the same time. It is probable some interesting developments will occur as a result of the meetings. Representatives of both organizations are here from all over the United States.

THIS thing of Brice colonizing railroad men preparatory to election should be stamped out at once. It is a shame and a disgrace that such things are allowed in Ohio.

YES, the Campbells are coming, but they are being pushed to their highest speed by a task master who knows no such expression as neglect of duty. The initials of his first name are Hon. Calvin S Brice, resident of New York, and United States senator from Ohio.

AN INCIDENT.

While the hand shakes at Chicamauga and the good fellowship of Louisville are still warm in the hearts of the blue and the gray the following dispatch from Petersburg, Va., tells its own sad story.

"An incident which occurred here this morning at the reception given to the liberty bell is the talk of the town tonight. A member of the escort committee leaned from the car in which the bell was rigged, and lifting a small negro baby from the arms of its mother, wrapped it in the American flag and seated it upon the beam from which the bell was hung. The incident sent a chill through the residents, and although there was no hisses or other demonstrations of disapproval, many of them turned on their heels and walked away."

Who says the Mason and Dixon line is obliterated and the people of the south willing and anxious to accept the new order?

THE BIG FROG.

This pretense of Campbell being the big frog in the Democratic puddle is all nonsense. Brice is the leader, the man who craves position and honor. He it is who burns with a desire to again represent in congress the state he has deserted, and he it is who is employing the best Democratic talent on the market to help him win out against the people. If Brice had not run over from New York with his bag of gold and ready check book the campaign in Ohio would this year be flatter than the proverbial pancake, and the Campbell they talk so much about would be hustling around attempting to retrieve his shattered fortunes by the exercise of his ability in the legitimate walks of life instead of following the delusive phantom held out by Mr. Brice. The senator is making the fight of his life, urging on his servants and applying all sorts of promises to make them work the harder. That is why the New Yorker is such a dangerous enemy, and it is why the Republican committee are working with a will to get out the vote. If the Republicans go to the polls, not a vestige of Brice and his golden bound gang can be found after election day.

SLOW RESCUE WORK.

EIGHT DEAD FROM EXPLODING GAS

Five Men Badly Burned Rescued—One Was Slowly Roasting to Death When Aid Came—Companion Lay Near Helpless With Broken Arms.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 8.—The rescuers have made very little headway in their efforts to reach the victims of the gas explosion in the Dorrance mine. Firedamp has made its appearance and it has been necessary to do considerable brattice work, which proceeds very slowly. There is a strong suspicion also that the explosion caused a heavy fall in the old workings, and that this will further retard the work of the rescuers. It is now admitted by the mine officials that there is no hope of finding the engineer corps alive. They all perished in the explosion, and if they were not killed outright they were suffocated by the firedamp. The superintendent is of the opinion that they were killed by the force of the explosion and their bodies probably burned to a crisp. All but eight miners and laborers have now been accounted for. Superintendent Chase thinks, however, that the list of dead will not number more than seven or eight. They may be put down as follows:

William L. Jones, mining engineer, aged 21, of Wilkesbarre; William Cahill, mining engineer, aged 20, Wilkesbarre; Llewellyn Owens, mining engineer, aged 24, Pittston; Daniel Davis, fire boss, aged 38; three unknown men, probably Hungarian laborers.

Five men, all badly burned, have been brought to the surface. They are Robert Blanchard, aged 19; William Miller, aged 21; Michael Moss, George Lafly and Joseph Murphy.

The first two are members of the engineer corps. Moss and Lafly are laborers and Murphy is a driver. Miller and Blanchard are so badly burned that they cannot live.

Miller and Blanchard are resting easily, but little hope is entertained for their recovery.

Blanchard gave his version of the explosion to a reporter as he lay on a cot in the hospital. He said that the engineer corps decided to make a survey of the old abandoned workings, known as the Baltimore section. The party, which was in charge of Fireboss Daniel Reese, who is an expert on mine gases, consisted of William Jones, William Cahill and Llewellyn Owens. Blanchard and Miller were left behind to finish some work that had been started. About 12 minutes after the party had left Miller and Blanchard the explosion occurred. Both Miller and Blanchard were knocked down by its force. Fiying timbers also struck Miller, breaking both his arms.

After being knocked down Miller and Blanchard remembered nothing until they were revived at the hospital. Blanchard thinks some of the engineers or probably the fireboss set fire to a body of gas in the old workings, and that all of the party must have been instantly killed. When Blanchard was found he was being slowly roasted to death.

Not a Case of Abduction.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Lloyd Mifflin Scott has appeared in the supreme court on the arm of her husband to answer to the writ of habeas corpus secured by George A. Smythe, a Boston lawyer, who charged that Scott and his father, John C. Scott, a wealthy Philadelphia coal dealer, had abducted her in Boston and were depriving her of her liberty. It was proved that it was a case of reconciliation.

Ancient Church Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The Abington Presbyterian church, the home of the oldest Presbyterian congregation in Montgomery county and for more than a century a land mark on the old York road in Abington village, a mile and a half above Jenkintown has been destroyed by fire with its contents. TEMPLE CUP SERIES.

The Baltimores Shut Out the Clevelands in the Fourth Game.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8.—The champions have tasted the sweetness of revenge by shutting the Spiders out without a run in the fourth game of the Temple cup series.

The playing seems to indicate that the home team will make it three straight here. More than 10,000 people saw the battle and the enthusiasm was unbounded, so much so in fact that some of the rougher element forgot themselves and offered some indignities to the visitors.

It was purely a pitchers' contest, in which Esper had the better of it. Cuppy, though a bit wild, held the victors down to nine hits. These, however, came at opportune times, while the five made by the visitors were scattered and non-productive of runs. The fielding on both sides was almost perfect, not a chance being refused. Aside from the work of the batteries, the only notable features were brilliant catches of long flies by Kelley, Brodie, McGarr and Blake, and the splendid work of Jennings at short. Score:

PROSECUTION TO HIS AID.

New York District Attorney Declares That Murderer Hannigan Is Insane.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A remarkable condition of affairs developed when the case of David F. Hannigan, charged with killing Solomon H. Mann, the betrayer of his sister, was called before Justice Ingraham in oyer and terminer. Assistant District Attorney John F. McIntyre rose and asserted that Hannigan is mentally unsound now and not in condition to be tried for life.

Dr. W. J. O'Sullivan replied hotly that Hannigan was all right mentally at the present time, but that the defense claimed that he was insane at the time of the shooting in front of the Bristol hotel, Forty-second street and Fifth avenue, on May 23 last. He demanded that the trial proceed, while the district attorney asked to have another case called. As a compromise, Justice Ingraham put the Hannigan case down for trial tomorrow, to which time the court adjourned.

THE BIG FIGHT'S FATE

Sporting Representatives Deciding It at Dallas Today.

HOT SPRINGS WANTS THE MILL.

Arkansas Can Do Nothing More Than Fine the Fighters—Commissioner Browning Forbids the Fight In the Indian Territory—Wisconsin Sports Want It.

DALLAS, Oct. 8.—Martin Julian, representing Robert Fitzsimmons, and William A. Brady for James J. Corbett, are in the city. Only Joe Vendig is lacking to make up a quorum to settle the selection of the battle-ground. He will be in from New York this afternoon. It is possible all the preliminaries will be arranged tonight, but more than likely they will not be until tomorrow. Bets have been freely accepted at odds of 4 to 15 that the fight would come off on October 31. Maher is now putting in ten hours a day at Oak Cliff punching the bag, sparring with his trainer, running five miles and repeating, plunging in the lake and doing other developing acts.

The city has already received 100 or so sporting men, who are here looking over the ground. W. Waters and W. Martin of Hot Springs, Ark., a committee representing that city, are here arranging for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons mill to come off there, and will remain here until details are settled upon. They quote the law of their state as applying to principals and participants in the ring, making prize fighting a misdemeanor, with a fine of $1,000 to $1,500 as a penalty. They say the contest will be pulled off there without question.

A Milwaukee special says: Sports in this state are planning to have the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight pulled off on an Indian reservation in the northern part of the state.

A Washington special says: Commissioner Browning of the Indian office has taken prompt and decisive steps to prevent the Corbett-Fittzsimmons prize fight taking place in the Indian Territory. He has sent a letter of instructions to Agent Wisdom at Muscogee, I. T., directing him to see that the laws are enforced and to eject forcibly any intruders who may enter the Indian country for the purpose of creating a disturbance or engaging in anything that may be detrimental to the Indians. The commissioner says that the statutes of the United States are ample to cover the situation and to prevent the fight. The agent will have at his back not only the Indian police, but all the United States troops necessary to eject the fighters. The statutes give the United States authority to keep out of the Indian Territory all persons whose presence would be detrimental to the peace and prosperity of the Indians.

The committee says there is no doubt that the presence of the prizefighters and the gang that would follow them into the Indian country would be very detrimental to the Indians, and therefore it is the duty of the Indians to keep them out. He says that the agent at Muscogee has not got as much authority as the agents on reservations, but nevertheless has enough to prevent the fight taking place in the territory of the five civilized tribes. The commissioner intends also to notify all the governors and head men of the five civilized tribes that they must not allow the fight to take place and must assist the United States authorities in preventing it. Commissioner Browning was asked if the admission of Corbett, Fitzsimmons and others connected with the fight to citizenship in one of the tribes would make any difference in the authority of the government and he said that it would not change the conditions in the least. The government has the power to expel a full blood Indian from the territory if the peace and good order of the Indians required it.

MUST INAUGURATE REFORM.

Great Britain Says Riots In Constantinople Don't Change the Situation.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—It is officially stated that the recent disturbances at Constantinople will not stop the negotiations which Great Britain and the powers are carrying on with the Turkish government looking to reform in the administration of Armenia.

A Vienna special says: The Politische Correspondenz publishes the note which the representatives of the powers at Constantinople have addressed to the porte drawing attention to the state of affairs and advising the porte to adopt measures for the restoration of order. The note says that the subscribers have their information partly from eye witnesses, and that it shows that private persons who were arrested were beaten and were even killed, without the police attempting to prevent it; that orderly persons were attacked and that those who were wounded were taken to the courts, to the police stations and to the prisons and were killed in cold blood.

A Constantinople special says: There is one feature of the police work which is attracting considerable attention. It is frequently recalled that the gendarmes while making arrests repeatedly told the persons taken into custody to "Call upon England to deliver you."

Those who know the way of Turkish officials say that this shows that the police were instructed to impress upon the minds of the Armenians that Great Britain was unable or unwilling to assist them in this emergency.

Fatal Row Among Boatmen.

TONAWANDA, N. Y., Oct. 8.—One man was killed and another fatally wounded here in a riot among boatmen over the question of loading a boat at Scribner's dock. About 150 men were involved in the riot, and several pistol shots were fired. Phillips' son was struck on the head with a club and knocked insensible. It is believed his skull is fractured and his death is feared.

A HURRICANE CONTEST

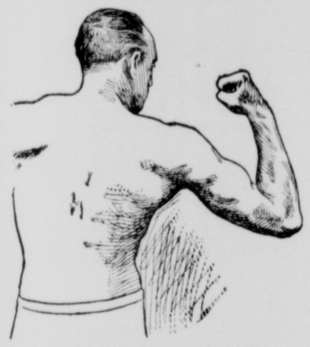

Fitzsimmons Believes the Big Battle Will Be Brief.

TO WIN OR LOSE IN TEN ROUNDS.

The Australian Hopes to Defeat Corbett In a "Short, Sharp and Decisive" Struggle. Bob's Reasons For Believing He Will Vanquish the California Gladiator.

Where there's a will there's always a way. Notwithstanding executive proclamations and apparently other insurmountable obstacles James J. Corbett and your humble servant will meet in the roped arena and battle for the world's championship. I have such confidence in Dan Stuart, the ruling spirit of the Florida Athletic club, that I believe implicitly that he will be able to bring off the great fistic carnival either at Dallas, on Oct. 31 next, or immediately across the border in Mexico. He has able legal advisers and is satisfied that boxing is not illegal in Texas. It certainly is not in Mexico.

As the management have now determined there will be two, and possibly three, other contests between recognized champions in their respective classes besides the stellar event in which Corbett and myself will figure. Tommy Ryan and Mysterious Billy Smith will battle for the welterweight championship of the world, Steve O'Donnell of Australia and Peter Maher of Ireland for gold and glory, and possibly Jack McAuliffe and Kid Lavigne for the lightweight championship of the world.

This will unquestionably be the greatest fistic carnival ever held in any country and it is bound to mark an epoch in the history of fistiana. Additional interest is lent to the affair from the fact that win or lose it will be the last battles in which Corbett and McAuliffe will take part and that if McAuliffe and I win we will be the targets at whom myriad challenges will be leveled by ambitious aspirants for fistic fame. It is an open secret that, in the event of my defeating Corbett, Peter Maher, the Irish champion, should he conquer O'Donnell, will be after me hot foot with a challenge for battle. O'Donnell, too, should fortune favor him in his mill with the Irishman, says he will challenge me; so do big Paddy Slavin, late of Australia, now of London, and a host of others.

It is a good and wise saying that one should never count his chickens until they are hatched. I have been asked by so many kind friends all over the country, however, through innumerable letters what I would do in the event of my winning the championship that I take this method of declaring my intentions. I am now an American citizen, and I glory in my adopted country. Should I have the good luck to wrest the championship from Corbett, I will strive to keep it where it belongs—in America. Of course I can't take cognizance of every challenge hurled at me, but any "defi" properly backed from a man in the championship class will receive prompt attention whether that man comes from England, Scotland, Ireland, Australia, America or elsewhere. Of course I demand a proper period of rest after a championship fight, such as has always been accorded to champions before embarking in another venture. As far as Peter Maher's prospective challenge is concerned (for everybody almost seems to think he will defeat O'Donnell) I have simply this to say: I whipped Peter once fairly and I don't see why I should be compelled to essay the task a second time. According to the logic of events, it should only be an unbeaten man I should be compelled to face, but I am willing to waive that point and may take on Peter again if the inducements be sufficient.

It is rather embarrassing for me to talk about myself, but I am asked a lot of pointed questions, so here goes:

"Do I think I can defeat Corbett?" Every mail brings this query. To be candid and with no feeling of egotism I reply that I honestly believe I can; otherwise I would never have made the match. Mind you, I don't underrate the Californian's powers one whit. He is clever, shifty, strong and enduring. I know, too, that he is 1¾ inches taller and some 30 pounds heavier than I. How then, it will be naturally asked, can I give these odds away and expect to win? I will tell you. My reach is nearly as great as Corbett's and I am quite as strong, if not stronger, in the points where a fighter most needs strength—that is, across the shoulders, chest, arms and muscles of the back. My blacksmithing work in early days did that for me. Experts agree that I am the harder hitter, and as I think I am fully as clever as Jim with my hands, as shifty on my feet and as enduring, I argue that I should land quite as often as the Californian, and if I do the greater force of my blows should tell in my favor eventually. I am not considering the element of chance here. Of course a lucky blow may settle the fate of either man at any stage of the game.

Another point I wish to impress upon some critical friends of mine—it is not an unusual thing by any means for the lighter man to whip his heavier adversary. The history of fistiana proves that. Tom Sayers,

Jem Mace and Joe Coburn, when at the fittest and best, were really only middleweights, and yet they defeated the biggest and strongest men of England and America—men who weighed anywhere from 20 to 40 pounds more than they. Jack Randall of England, the original "Nonpareil," and gallant Jack Dempsey, his American prototype, whipped men who tipped the beam at anything from 10 to 30 pounds more than they. If I am defeated by Corbett, I will make no excuse for my overthrow on the score of weight.

"How long will the fight last?" many interested people ask me. That I can't tell. It won't be very long if I can help it. I will try to make it short, sharp and decisive. Corbett, I see, is quoted as saying that he will take his time in disposing of me, that he wants to make a "nice, clean, artistic job" of it, and he predicts that he will win in 20 rounds or thereabout. Well, I have the assurance to think the boot will be on the other foot and I hope to capture first money in less than half that time. I will either win or be whipped in an energetic manner. Of course I can't tell exactly how I will fight—no man can—until I get in the ring. Circumstances frequently alter a fellow's plan of action. Whatever way the contest goes I predict it will be a redhot bout and well worth seeing.

Indeed, all of the events scheduled at the carnival promise to be decidedly interesting. Peter Maher and Steve O'Donnell, who battle on the day following the contest between Corbett and myself—viz, Nov. 1—will, I feel assured, put up a fine fight. Tommy Ryan and Mysterious Billy Smith are certain to wage a fierce and almost even battle on the ensuing day, Nov. 2. The boys have met four times now without signal advantage to either man. They are the best two welterweights in the world, with the possible exception of Joe Walcott, the "Black Hercules." Both of these teams fight for purses of $5,000 and side wagers of $5,000 more. Should Jack McAuliffe face Kid Lavigne at the carnival it would be for a purse of $5,000 and a side bet equally large. When one considers these amounts—$30,000 all told—in conjunction with the sum Corbett and I battle for—$41,000 purse and $20,000 side stakes—the magnitude of the enterprise Dan Stuart and the Florida Athletic club have undertaken can be readily appreciated. It will be a fistic feast which will live in history and which no man with car fare in his pocket and a drop of sporting blood in his veins should miss.

That the carnival will be a success, both from a monetary and sporting standpoint, I have not the slightest doubt. Public interest is already aroused to a high pitch all through the United States, and at the big amphitheater of the Florida Athletic club I confidently expect to see the largest and most representative body of sport loving men that has ever been gathered together. With the success of Dan Stuart's enterprise boxing will receive an impetus that will once more make it what it was in the old Grecian days—the sport of kings.

SIX STARVED TO DEATH.

The Horrible Find of a Coroner Near Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—A few miles east of Cleveland Carl Longowitz has been living with his wife and children in a filthy shed devoid of furniture. Saturday their baby, 9 days old, died. The coroner Monday found the family in a horrible condition. The body of the baby was covered with dirt and was a mere skeleton. The coroner believes death was caused by starvation.

A week ago the neighbors took an 18-months-old boy away from the family and are trying to save his life. He was on the verge of starvation. Longowitz had seven children. All are dead except the rescued boy, and the neighbors say all died as the baby did. Longowitz is in jail pending the coroner's inquest, having been arrested after a desperate fight with the officers.

A Unique Organization.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—A unique organization, the American Protective association, has been incorporated with headquarters in this city by N. S. Amstutz, a well-known electrical inventor, and half a dozen farmers. Its object is the protection of farmers from the railroad companies. Farmers complain that if they are not well-to-do and influential they are unable to obtain redress when fences, barns and haystacks are burned and cattle killed by the railroads. The association proposes to embrace farmers, establish a fund by means of annual dues and keep in its employ attorneys to present all such cases in court.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

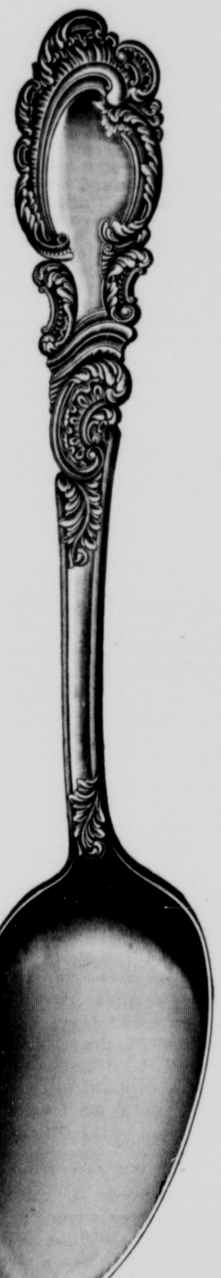

Rev. Lawrence Langstroth, a Presbyterian divine, was stricken while talking at communion in church at Dayton.

Christ Episcopal church of Dayton has a new rector in the person of Rev. Y. Peyton Morgan, formerly of Minneapolis.

Mrs. Judge Lyman R. Critchfield is dead at Wooster from burns received two weeks ago from a gasoline tank overflowing and igniting.

Silas M. Smith, pastor of the Congregational church, West Side, Marietta, is dead at the age of 38 years. He is a graduate of Yale Theological seminary. A wife and three children survive him.

James S. McConnell, confined in the Noble county jail at this place under sentence of two years in the Ohio penitentiary for breaking into the residence of John Brand of Mt. Ephraim on the night of July 29 and attempting to assault Mrs. Brand during the absence of her husband, has made an unsuccessful attempt at jail breaking.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A fight near the China works last night between two old men amused a small audience.

The trolley wire fell last night on the Wellsville road near the campground, and passengers were for a time transferred.

All the section crews on the Cleveland and Pittsburg are cleaning up in anticipation of the coming, very soon, of the general officers, on a tour of inspection.

The plant of the Specialty company is idle because of the lack of soda. As soon as a large shipment now on the way arrives the works will be placed in operation.

The popularity of dancing among the young people was never more clearly shown than last night, three dances being held in the city and all were well patronized.

From present indications the rivermen will not soon have a rise. There was some rain up the stream yesterday and the water was a few inches deeper in consequence this morning.

The funeral of the late George Henderson, who died at the home of his father in Wellsville last Saturday, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The family have many friends in this city.

Perhaps the queerest business combination in this end of Ohio is a grocery and merchant tailoring establishment which is being carried on in the West End. The two are said to work well together.

Mrs. George C. Murphy last evening very pleasantly entertained the young ladies of the First Presbyterian church who are interested in missionary work. Arrangements were made for a novel entertainment soon to be given.

Mrs. R. E. Hill went to Detroit yesterday, where she will visit with friends for a few days. Later in the week she goes to Norwalk, where she will attend the state meeting of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Hill is one of the state officers.

A girl residing in Jethro was the cause of a pitched battle between her mother and a young man on the switch near the glass works last night. The mother accused the man of leading her daughter astray, and took her home after giving him a tongue lashing that almost raised his hair.

Avondale people who are interested in the paving of the street called a meeting for last evening, but an insufficient number attended, and after talking the matter over in an informal way they went home. It was the intention of the prime movers to call the attention of council to the proposed improvement.

East End people say that the work of completing the pavements in that part of the city is greatly hampered by the long absence of a grade, many places requiring no end of filling to bring them to a level with the sidewalk. The End, however, is very glad to have pavements, some experiences of last winter being still fresh in the minds of the people.

Rev. J. M. Wilkes, who has for three years been pastor of the African church in this city, will on Thursday leave for Middletown, his new charge. Since coming here he has succeeded, with the aid of the congregation, in lifting the mortgage of $500 on the church, and placing it on a firm foundation financially. Reverend Wilkes will be succeeded by Rev. B. M. Carson, of Cadiz, who has been very successful in the work, and is a popular minister.

There was an affecting scene at the passenger station yesterday afternoon. Two Germans were taking leave of each other, one being bound for the Fatherland and the other remaining in the city. They embraced affectionately, and with tears streaming down their cheeks, bade each other a fond farewell. It was a scene not often witnessed in this busy land, where a hand clasp is the only evidence of affection to be seen, and the loungers looked on in wonder.

The home conducted by the Woman's Christian Temperance union on Market street has been a successful institution through the untiring efforts of the noble women who are doing the work of maintaining it. At present the seating capacity of the tables is almost filled at every meal, but the society can take care of a few more lodgers. Every influence the ladies can command is brought to bear for the good of the home, making it an institution that should receive support from other quarters.

Mate Tom Russell, of the Woodruff, who is known to all his friends as Friday, returned after a visit of 10 weeks to Cincinnati. He came to Wellsville on the growler, and was met at by Sam Charleton and a party of friends, and they escorted him home. While in Cincinnati he had a good look at the Virginia, the new packet that will take the place of the Iron Queen, and he says she is a beauty of the first water, one of the handsomest boats ever seen on the river. Two employes of the Woodruff resigned yesterday, and left for their homes in Cincinnati.

Our Cloak Room.

It's a good thing sometimes to get posted on a line before investing your money. M ny a dollar has been lost because the party that lost it was not fully aware of the buying power of it. We want you to give our cloak room a visit. If you have $5.00 you want to invest we can prove to you that it will go farther than you would imagine. Our stock was never so large or values so great.

Five dollars will buy you a good Beaver Jacket; $7.50 will get you a Boucle Cloth Jacket, with the "Mandolin" sleeve; at $10.00 we have a selection of fifteen styles, all good and all stylish; $12.00 and $15.00 are two prices we claim to be extra strong in. Then our Fur Capes begin at $5.00. We can show you all the prices from that up to $75.00, and we guarantee the prices as low as any city store will give you.

Underwear.

These mornings make you think of it. Our underwear department in basement is chock full of good things, particularly our 48c suit for ladies. Our children's fleece lined cotton underwear, all sizes from 16s to 32s, are selling rapidly. The prices are within the reach of all. This quality has taken the place of wool to a great extent.

Blankets.

You may be surprised when we say that our Blanket stock is fully 20 per cent cheaper than last season. This in the face of a rising market can only be explained by stating that our blanket stock was all bought before the advance, and we marked them regardless of what the goods are worth to day.

A HURRICANE CONTEST

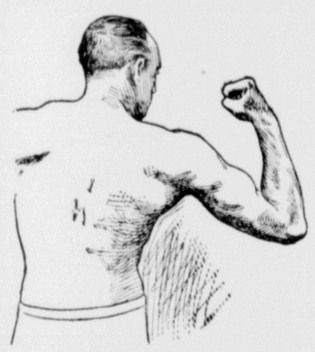

Fitzsimmons Believes the Big Battle Will Be Brief.

TO WIN OR LOSE IN TEN ROUNDS.

The Australian Hopes to Defeat Corbett In a "Short, Sharp and Decisive" Struggle. Bob's Reasons For Believing He Will Vanquish the California Gladiator.

Where there's a will there's always a way. Notwithstanding executive proclamations and apparently other insurmountable obstacles James J. Corbett and your humble servant will meet in the roped arena and battle for the world's championship. I have such confidence in Dan Stuart, the ruling spirit of the Florida Athletic club, that I believe implicitly that he will be able to bring off the great fistic carnival either at Dallas, on Oct. 31 next, or immediately across the border in Mexico. He has able legal advisers and is satisfied that boxing is not illegal in Texas. It certainly is not in Mexico.

As the management have now determined there will be two, and possibly three, other contests between recognized champions in their respective classes besides the stellar event in which Corbett and myself will figure. Tommy Ryan and Mysterious Billy Smith will battle for the welterweight championship of the world, Steve O'Donnell of Australia and Peter Maher of Ireland for gold and glory, and possibly Jack McAuliffe and Kid Lavigne for the lightweight championship of the world.

This will unquestionably be the greatest fistic carnival ever held in any country and it is bound to mark an epoch in the history of fistiana. Additional interest is lent to the affair from the fact that win or lose it will be the last battles in which Corbett and McAuliffe will take part and that if McAuliffe and I win we will be the targets at whom myriad challenges will be leveled by ambitious aspirants for fistic fame. It is an open secret that, in the event of my defeating Corbett, Peter Maher, the Irish champion, should he conquer O'Donnell, will be after me hot foot with a challenge for battle. O'Donnell, too, should fortune favor him in his mill with the Irishman, says he will challenge me; so do big Paddy Slavin, late of Australia, now of London, and a host of others.

It is a good and wise saying that one should never count his chickens until they are hatched. I have been asked by so many kind friends all over the country, however, through innumerable letters what I would do in the event of my winning the championship that I take this method of declaring my intentions. I am now an American citizen, and I glory in my adopted country. Should I have the good luck to wrest the championship from Corbett, I will strive to keep it where it belongs—in America. Of course I can't take cognizance of every challenge hurled at me, but any "defi" properly backed from a man in the championship class will receive prompt attention whether that man comes from England, Scotland, Ireland, Australia, America or elsewhere. Of course I demand a proper period of rest after a championship fight, such as has always been accorded to champions before embarking in another venture. As far as Peter Maher's prospective challenge is concerned (for everybody almost seems to think he will defeat O'Donnell) I have simply this to say: I whipped Peter once fairly and I don't see why I should be compelled to essay the task a second time. According to the logic of events, it should only be an unbeaten man I should be compelled to face, but I am willing to waive that point and may take on Peter again if the inducements be sufficient.

It is rather embarrassing for me to talk about myself, but I am asked a lot of pointed questions, so here goes:

"Do I think I can defeat Corbett?" Every mail brings this query. To be candid and with no feeling of egotism I reply that I honestly believe I can; otherwise I would never have made the match. Mind you, I don't underrate the Californian's powers one whit. He is clever, shifty, strong and enduring. I know, too, that he is 1¾ inches taller and some 30 pounds heavier than I. How then, it will be naturally asked, can I give these odds away and expect to win? I will tell you. My reach is nearly as great as Corbett's and I am quite as strong, if not stronger, in the points where a fighter most needs strength—that is, across the shoulders, chest, arms and muscles of the back. My blacksmithing work in early days did that for me. Experts agree that I am the harder hitter, and as I think I am fully as clever as Jim with my hands, as shifty on my feet and as enduring, I argue that I should land quite as often as the Californian, and if I do the greater force of my blows should tell in my favor eventually. I am not considering the element of chance here. Of course a lucky blow may settle the fate of either man at any stage of the game.

Another point I wish to impress upon some critical friends of mine—it is not an unusual thing by any means for the lighter man to whip his heavier adversary. The history of fistiana proves that. Tom Sayers,

Jem Mace and Joe Coburn, when at the fittest and best, were really only middleweights, and yet they defeated the biggest and strongest men of England and America—men who weighed anywhere from 20 to 40 pounds more than they. Jack Randall of England, the original "Nonpareil," and gallant Jack Dempsey, his American prototype, whipped men who tipped the beam at anything from 10 to 30 pounds more than they. If I am defeated by Corbett, I will make no excuse for my overthrow on the score of weight.

"How long will the fight last?" many interested people ask me. That I can't tell. It won't be very long if I can help it. I will try to make it short, sharp and decisive. Corbett, I see, is quoted as saying that he will take his time in disposing of me, that he wants to make a "nice, clean, artistic job" of it, and he predicts that he will win in 20 rounds or thereabout. Well, I have the assurance to think the boot will be on the other foot and I hope to capture first money in less than half that time. I will either win or be whipped in an energetic manner. Of course I can't tell exactly how I will fight—no man can—until I get in the ring. Circumstances frequently alter a fellow's plan of action. Whatever way the contest goes I predict it will be a redhot bout and well worth seeing.

Indeed, all of the events scheduled at the carnival promise to be decidedly interesting. Peter Maher and Steve O'Donnell, who battle on the day following the contest between Corbett and myself—viz, Nov. 1—will, I feel assured, put up a fine fight. Tommy Ryan and Mysterious Billy Smith are certain to wage a fierce and almost even battle on the ensuing day, Nov. 2. The boys have met four times now without signal advantage to either man. They are the best two welterweights in the world, with the possible exception of Joe Walcott, the "Black Hercules." Both of these teams fight for purses of $5,000 and side wagers of $5,000 more. Should Jack McAuliffe face Kid Lavigne at the carnival it would be for a purse of $5,000 and a side bet equally large. When one considers these amounts—$30,000 all told—in conjunction with the sum Corbett and I battle for—$41,000 purse and $20,000 side stakes—the magnitude of the enterprise Dan Stuart and the Florida Athletic club have undertaken can be readily appreciated. It will be a fistic feast which will live in history and which no man with car fare in his pocket and a drop of sporting blood in his veins should miss.

That the carnival will be a success, both from a monetary and sporting standpoint, I have not the slightest doubt. Public interest is already aroused to a high pitch all through the United States, and at the big amphitheater of the Florida Athletic club I confidently expect to see the largest and most representative body of sport loving men that has ever been gathered together. With the success of Dan Stuart's enterprise boxing will receive an impetus that will once more make it what it was in the old Grecian days—the sport of kings.

SIX STARVED TO DEATH.

The Horrible Find of a Coroner Near Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—A few miles east of Cleveland Carl Longowitz has been living with his wife and children in a filthy shed devoid of furniture. Saturday their baby, 9 days old, died. The coroner Monday found the family in a horrible condition. The body of the baby was covered with dirt and was a mere skeleton. The coroner believes death was caused by starvation.

A week ago the neighbors took an 18-months-old boy away from the family and are trying to save his life. He was on the verge of starvation. Longowitz had seven children. All are dead except the rescued boy, and the neighbors say all died as the baby did. Longowitz is in jail pending the coroner's inquest, having been arrested after a desperate fight with the officers.

A Unique Organization.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—A unique organization, the American Protective association, has been incorporated with headquarters in this city by N. S. Amstutz, a well-known electrical inventor, and half a dozen farmers. Its object is the protection of farmers from the railroad companies. Farmers complain that if they are not well-to-do and influential they are unable to obtain redress when fences, barns and haystacks are burned and cattle killed by the railroads. The association proposes to embrace farmers, establish a fund by means of annual dues and keep in its employ attorneys to present all such cases in court.

Christ Episcopal church of Dayton has a new rector in the person of Rev. Y. Peyton Morgan, formerly of Minneapolis.

Mrs. Judge Lyman R. Critchfield is dead at Wooster from burns received two weeks ago from a gasoline tank overflowing and igniting.

Silas M. Smith, pastor of the Congregational church, West Side, Marietta, is dead at the age of 38 years. He is a graduate of Yale Theological seminary. A wife and three children survive him.

James S. McConnell, confined in the Noble county jail at this place under sentence of two years in the Ohio penitentiary for breaking into the residence of John Brand of Mt. Ephraim on the night of July 29 and attempting to assault Mrs. Brand during the absence of her husband, has made an unsuccessful attempt at jail breaking.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A fight near the China works last night between two old men amused a small audience.

The trolley wire fell last night on the Wellsville road near the campground, and passengers were for a time transferred.

All the section crews on the Cleveland and Pittsburg are cleaning up in anticipation of the coming, very soon, of the general officers, on a tour of inspection.

The plant of the Specialty company is idle because of the lack of soda. As soon as a large shipment now on the way arrives the works will be placed in operation.

The popularity of dancing among the young people was never more clearly shown than last night, three dances being held in the city and all were well patronized.

From present indications the rivermen will not soon have a rise. There was some rain up the stream yesterday and the water was a few inches deeper in consequence this morning.

The funeral of the late George Henderson, who died at the home of his father in Wellsville last Saturday, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The family have many friends in this city.

Perhaps the queerest business combination in this end of Ohio is a grocery and merchant tailoring establishment which is being carried on in the West End. The two are said to work well together.

Mrs. George C. Murphy last evening very pleasantly entertained the young ladies of the First Presbyterian church who are interested in missionary work. Arrangements were made for a novel entertainment soon to be given.

Mrs. R. E. Hill went to Detroit yesterday, where she will visit with friends for a few days. Later in the week she goes to Norwalk, where she will attend the state meeting of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Hill is one of the state officers.

A girl residing in Jethro was the cause of a pitched battle between her mother and a young man on the switch near the glass works last night. The mother accused the man of leading her daughter astray, and took her home after giving him a tongue lashing that almost raised his hair.

Avondale people who are interested in the paving of the street called a meeting for last evening, but an insufficient number attended, and after talking the matter over in an informal way they went home. It was the intention of the prime movers to call the attention of council to the proposed improvement.

East End people say that the work of completing the pavements in that part of the city is greatly hampered by the long absence of a grade, many places requiring no end of filling to bring them to a level with the sidewalk. The End, however, is very glad to have pavements, some experiences of last winter being still fresh in the minds of the people.

Rev. J. M. Wilkes, who has for three years been pastor of the African church in this city, will on Thursday leave for Middletown, his new charge. Since coming here he has succeeded, with the aid of the congregation, in lifting the mortgage of $500 on the church, and placing it on a firm foundation financially. Reverend Wilkes will be succeeded by Rev. B. M. Carson, of Cadiz, who has been very successful in the work, and is a popular minister.

There was an affecting scene at the passenger station yesterday afternoon. Two Germans were taking leave of each other, one being bound for the Fatherland and the other remaining in the city. They embraced affectionately, and with tears streaming down their cheeks, bade each other a fond farewell. It was a scene not often witnessed in this busy land, where a hand clasp is the only evidence of affection to be seen, and the loungers looked on in wonder.

The home conducted by the Woman's Christian Temperance union on Market street has been a successful institution through the untiring efforts of the noble women who are doing the work of maintaining it. At present the seating capacity of the tables is almost filled at every meal, but the society can take care of a few more lodgers. Every influence the ladies can command is brought to bear for the good of the home, making it an institution that should receive support from other quarters.

Mate Tom Russell, of the Woodruff, who is known to all his friends as Friday, returned after a visit of 10 weeks to Cincinnati. He came to Wellsville on the growler, and was met at by Sam Charleton and a party of friends, and they escorted him home. While in Cincinnati he had a good look at the Virginia, the new packet that will take the place of the Iron Queen, and he says she is a beauty of the first water, one of the handsomest boats ever seen on the river. Two employes of the Woodruff resigned yesterday, and left for their homes in Cincinnati.

Our Cloak Room.

It's a good thing sometimes to get posted on a line before investing your money. M ny a dollar has been lost because the party that lost it was not fully aware of the buying power of it. We want you to give our cloak room a visit. If you have $5.00 you want to invest we can prove to you that it will go farther than you would imagine. Our stock was never so large or values so great.

Five dollars will buy you a good Beaver Jacket; $7.50 will get you a Boucle Cloth Jacket, with the "Mandolin" sleeve; at $10.00 we have a selection of fifteen styles, all good and all stylish; $12.00 and $15.00 are two prices we claim to be extra strong in. Then our Fur Capes begin at $5.00. We can show you all the prices from that up to $75.00, and we guarantee the prices as low as any city store will give you.

Underwear.

These mornings make you think of it. Our underwear department in basement is chock full of good things, particularly our 48c suit for ladies. Our children's fleece lined cotton underwear, all sizes from 16s to 32s, are selling rapidly. The prices are within the reach of all. This quality has taken the place of wool to a great extent.

Blankets.

You may be surprised when we say that our Blanket stock is fully 20 per cent cheaper than last season. This in the face of a rising market can only be explained by stating that our blanket stock was all bought before the advance, and we marked them regardless of what the goods are worth to day.

Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eyes with ease and comfort; also will be able to read it with each eye separately. If unable to do so your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or sewing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. The lenses sold in the cheap goods are of unequal density and have imperfectly formed surfaces. Continued use of these poorer lenses will result in positive injury from the constant strain upon the muscles of accomodation to supply the defects in the glass."

DON'T FAIL TO READ

Every East Liverpool Lady Will be Interested.

AND YOU HAVE AN INVITATION

The Wraps, Dress Goods, Novelties and Trimmings are Very Beautiful and Fashionable—The Comforts of Life are Also Carefully Looked After—The Glove Feature Will Win Your Commendation.

There is not a lady in East Liverpool or the surrounding country who is not interested in the following communication, as all our readers are desirous of knowing where they can secure wraps, dress goods, novelties and trimmings at reasonable figures, and at the same time secure the most fashionable and stylish goods manufactured.

In the line of comfort, to keep one well guarded against the silent attacks of that great assailant, Jack Frost, men, women and children are especially interested, and they are anxious to know where they can secure the best underwear, neat, well made, comfortable and durable, at the lowest possible prices consistent with getting good goods.

Again, our lady readers are anxious to know where the nicest kid and cashmere gloves are on sale, goods turned out by manufacturers of world-wide reputation—goods which have stood the test from the time they were first put upon the market and are still in great demand.

Perchance the would-be purchaser is making arrangements to secure blankets, in order that peaceful and comfortable slumber may hold him in snug and warm embrace, in the event of the gas companies failing to supply the home with the necessary quantity of fuel, or in case of a famine among our coal dealers.

Then there are those who are seeking for handsome handkerchiefs, in order that they may be prepared to present their friends with a token of esteem during the holidays.

To all those who are seeking for articles enumerated above, and in fact anything and everything connected with a first-class dry goods establishment, we would suggest a visit to the PEOPLE'S STORE, Fifth and Market, where the wide-awake proprietor, Henry E. Porter, has in stock and constantly arriving, the finest and most complete line of such goods ever brought into this part of the Ohio valley. The wraps for this season are very handsome, and the People's store is supplied with the handsomest goods manufactured. The dress goods are simply exquisite, and at this fine establishment you have a mammoth stock to select from. The common expression is that, "your eyes are your market." Well, your eyes will be filled with delight, ladies, when you inspect the superb suitings now on exhibition at the People's store. Better than this, your eyes will not or cannot deceive you, as goods are not misrepresented, under any circumstances, and deception in sales is absolutely forbidden. Square and fair dealing is one of the leading mottoes at this dress goods headquarters.

The clerks here engaged are skilled, clever and courteous, and they one and all take especial delight in exhibiting goods to patrons.

In a nut shell, ladies and gentlemen of East Liverpool and vicinity, you will find it decidedly to your advantage, when in need of anything in the line of dress or dry goods, to call at the People's store. You will be made welcome, and will be pleased and profited.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

A SILVER MANIFESTO.

Thurman's Committee Appeals to the Democrats of Ohio.

SILVER MEN FOR LEGISLATORS.

Voters Asked to Support Candidates Who Will Pledge Themselves to a Silverite for the United States Senate—Other Pledges Also Urged.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 8.—The silver Democratic state central committee, of which A. W. Thurman is chairman and W. W. Durbin secretary, has issued an address to the Democrats of Ohio, urging concerted action looking to the control of the next national Democratic convention. The address concludes as follows:

"The functions of the government of the United States are distinct and separate from those of the states. Matters of tariff taxation and coinage are functions of the United States with which the states have nothing directly to do. The support of every Democrat is therefore due to the state ticket. But members of the legislature who are to be chosen and who will elect a member of the United States senate, and who will have to vote directly upon the monetary question, and at a very critical stage of it, should be uncompromisingly pledged, if they are elected as members of the general assembly, to vote: first, in favor of an open party caucus for the naming of a United States senator; second, against a secret ballot in caucus; and third, against the selection of any man who is not in favor of the free coinage of both gold and silver into full legal tender money by the United States alone without regard to the action of any other country. To this end we ask your cordial co-operation and assistance."

MEMBERSHIP CONTEST.

Association Boys Will Hustle for New Men.

The membership contest at the Young Men's Christian association will begin tonight, two good teams having been selected for the battle. They will be organized this evening, and popular leaders chosen. The contest will be conducted on the lines laid down for the battle last year, and there promises to be great rivalry. It is expected that the result of the contest will be the addition of at least 100 members to the organization.

Made a Great Change.

Workmen have already commenced on one wall of the new building for the Standard pottery, and a great change has been made in the appearance of the ruins. Already the company have the three kilns of glost ware ready to draw, but there is nowhere to store the stock. A temporary structure will be erected for that purpose, and as much work as possible will be done at the factory.

Will Erect Kilns.

Edward Surles, the contractor, went today to Akron, where he will erect six kilns for the stone ware concern in that place. They already have a large plant, but their capacity will be largely increased by the addition. Mr. Surles expects to be absent from the city until near the holidays.

Objects to Thomas.

Charles Hutchinson, proprietor of the National House, called upon Mayor Gilbert today, and asked if the authorities could not keep Tommy Humpheries away from his place. He does not want Thomas around the hotel.

No Trace of the Scamps.

The gang of ruffians who so brutally beat Tommy Humpheries have not yet been apprehended by the police, although the force have been working on several clues. It is a pity the gang can not be captured, and if possible sent over the road.

Rolling a Road.

The improvement on the river road has not made driving as pleasant in that part of the city as it might be, and today the big roller was taken up to smooth off some of the big bumps.

DON'T FAIL TO READ

Every East Liverpool Lady Will be Interested.

AND YOU HAVE AN INVITATION

The Wraps, Dress Goods, Novelties and Trimmings are Very Beautiful and Fashionable—The Comforts of Life are Also Carefully Looked After—The Glove Feature Will Win Your Commendation.

There is not a lady in East Liverpool or the surrounding country who is not interested in the following communication, as all our readers are desirous of knowing where they can secure wraps, dress goods, novelties and trimmings at reasonable figures, and at the same time secure the most fashionable and stylish goods manufactured.

In the line of comfort, to keep one well guarded against the silent attacks of that great assailant, Jack Frost, men, women and children are especially interested, and they are anxious to know where they can secure the best underwear, neat, well made, comfortable and durable, at the lowest possible prices consistent with getting good goods.

Again, our lady readers are anxious to know where the nicest kid and cashmere gloves are on sale, goods turned out by manufacturers of world-wide reputation—goods which have stood the test from the time they were first put upon the market and are still in great demand.

Perchance the would-be purchaser is making arrangements to secure blankets, in order that peaceful and comfortable slumber may hold him in snug and warm embrace, in the event of the gas companies failing to supply the home with the necessary quantity of fuel, or in case of a famine among our coal dealers.

Then there are those who are seeking for handsome handkerchiefs, in order that they may be prepared to present their friends with a token of esteem during the holidays.

To all those who are seeking for articles enumerated above, and in fact anything and everything connected with a first-class dry goods establishment, we would suggest a visit to the PEOPLE'S STORE, Fifth and Market, where the wide-awake proprietor, Henry E. Porter, has in stock and constantly arriving, the finest and most complete line of such goods ever brought into this part of the Ohio valley. The wraps for this season are very handsome, and the People's store is supplied with the handsomest goods manufactured. The dress goods are simply exquisite, and at this fine establishment you have a mammoth stock to select from. The common expression is that, "your eyes are your market." Well, your eyes will be filled with delight, ladies, when you inspect the superb suitings now on exhibition at the People's store. Better than this, your eyes will not or cannot deceive you, as goods are not misrepresented, under any circumstances, and deception in sales is absolutely forbidden. Square and fair dealing is one of the leading mottoes at this dress goods headquarters.

The clerks here engaged are skilled, clever and courteous, and they one and all take especial delight in exhibiting goods to patrons.

In a nut shell, ladies and gentlemen of East Liverpool and vicinity, you will find it decidedly to your advantage, when in need of anything in the line of dress or dry goods, to call at the People's store. You will be made welcome, and will be pleased and profited.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. "The functions of the government of the United States are distinct and separate from those of the states. Matters of tariff taxation and coinage are functions of the United States with which the states have nothing directly to do. The support of every Democrat is therefore due to the state ticket. But members of the legislature who are to be chosen and who will elect a member of the United States senate, and who will have to vote directly upon the monetary question, and at a very critical stage of it, should be uncompromisingly pledged, if they are elected as members of the general assembly, to vote: first, in favor of an open party caucus for the naming of a United States senator; second, against a secret ballot in caucus; and third, against the selection of any man who is not in favor of the free coinage of both gold and silver into full legal tender money by the United States alone without regard to the action of any other country. To this end we ask your cordial co-operation and assistance."

MEMBERSHIP CONTEST.

Association Boys Will Hustle for New Men.

The membership contest at the Young Men's Christian association will begin tonight, two good teams having been selected for the battle. They will be organized this evening, and popular leaders chosen. The contest will be conducted on the lines laid down for the battle last year, and there promises to be great rivalry. It is expected that the result of the contest will be the addition of at least 100 members to the organization.

Made a Great Change.

Workmen have already commenced on one wall of the new building for the Standard pottery, and a great change has been made in the appearance of the ruins. Already the company have the three kilns of glost ware ready to draw, but there is nowhere to store the stock. A temporary structure will be erected for that purpose, and as much work as possible will be done at the factory.

Will Erect Kilns.

Edward Surles, the contractor, went today to Akron, where he will erect six kilns for the stone ware concern in that place. They already have a large plant, but their capacity will be largely increased by the addition. Mr. Surles expects to be absent from the city until near the holidays.

Objects to Thomas.

Charles Hutchinson, proprietor of the National House, called upon Mayor Gilbert today, and asked if the authorities could not keep Tommy Humpheries away from his place. He does not want Thomas around the hotel.

No Trace of the Scamps.

The gang of ruffians who so brutally beat Tommy Humpheries have not yet been apprehended by the police, although the force have been working on several clues. It is a pity the gang can not be captured, and if possible sent over the road.

Rolling a Road.

The improvement on the river road has not made driving as pleasant in that part of the city as it might be, and today the big roller was taken up to smooth off some of the big bumps.
